Chair's Message

When the InforME legislation was created in 1998, digital government was a concept unknown to many around the country including here in Maine. Today, many Mainers interact with government exclusively through technology and through digital services sponsored by InforME. As we conclude the first full year of the third InforME network manager contract, I'm proud to be part of a legislative effort that has proven itself a success, exceeding expectations and expanding every year.

InforME, through Maine.gov and the network manager Tyler Technologies, continues to offer new sites, services, and enterprise tools that create efficiencies for government entities and residents, business owners, and visitors. In 2023, sixteen new services and websites were launched. New services include new comment forms for the Department of the Secretary of State, a new Public Safety website design, and several applications powered by the InforME low-code form builder, Engagement Builder.

In addition, InforME embraced user feedback and agency needs to enhance existing services with new features, functionality, and transaction types. Thirty-eight enhancements were deployed in 2023 including modernized corporate filing and search services, new functionality that allows hunters to self-register harvested turkeys out in the field, and enhancements to agency websites to provide citizens with improved access to critical government information.

This hard work has not gone unnoticed. In 2023, Maine.gov sites and services were recognized with three national honors including named a finalist in the Digital Government Experience Awards hosted by the Center for Digital Government.

InforME, through partnership with our state and local agencies, continues to expand digital government in Maine at the state, county, and municipal level. InforME is currently finalizing its strategic plan to align with features and requirements of the third InforME network manager contract. This strategic plan will call for new marketing strategies, service updates, and new ways to engage with the public. Entering its 25th year, InforME is undertaking several exciting initiatives I am excited to be a part of. I would like to thank all the people that contribute to InforME's digital government success including the InforME Board members, Tyler Technologies network manager staff, participating government employees, and especially online service users.

2023 - A Year of Success

Maine.gov, developed by InforME, is a gateway to State of Maine information and resources accessed through one-stop services, convenient notification options, and excellent customer service. The State of Maine first adopted the concept for a self-funded digital government portal in 1997 with the creation of the InforME legislation, a unique state initiative resulting in the creation of Maine.gov in 1999. Now celebrating its 25th year, InforME continues to find innovative ways to provide access to services for the citizens of Maine.

Maine.gov Milestones

2023 was a banner year for InforME service usage and visits. More than 61,600,000 visits were made to Maine.gov content, and 1.7 million credit card payments were processed during the year. This includes 303,000 hunting and fishing license purchases, 286,000 auto registration renewals, and 150,000 professional licensing transactions. In October of the year, the auto registration renewal service processed its 3 millionth transaction since its launch in 2001. This transaction was for a resident in Carrabasset Valley.

An additional 2.2 million subscriber account transactions were processed. The InforME subscriber account offers a convenient payment option for users of our most popular business services including criminal record requests, annual report filings, and driver record checks.

In total, InforME securely collected more than $267,425,000 in revenue for our state, local, and county partners across 200+ service offerings. These services, complete with agency database interaction and credit card payments where necessary, plus the robust hosted content available through Maine.gov have saved trips to town offices, calls to state agencies, and emails to support staff.

In addition to outstanding metrics for existing services, InforME is proud to have launched 54 new sites, interactive online services, and existing service enhancements in 2023. Notable launches include a new marriage officiant search for the Bureau of Corporations, Elections, and Commissions, new and updated forms leveraging our Engagement Builder form building tool such as the Employee Health and Wellness Portal and updates to the Child and Family Services Child Care Grant Portal, and new websites including the Department of Public Safety and the Labor Apprenticeship Program website which leveraged the InforME content management system.

Looking Forward to 2024

In the coming year, InforME will continue to expand state and local government services and information by leveraging platform technologies such as the Engagement Builder platform and the content management system. Additionally, InforME is partnering with the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife to create an outdoors mobile app. This app will have several exciting features including offline mapping capabilities, one-click payments for licenses, and links to rules, laws, and season and bag limit details. With the deployment of this and several other new services, websites, and initiatives in 2024, InforME is looking forward to another year of success.
